A colleague once described an ideal career as one that combines ‘the world’s great need with your great joy,’” Nora Rosenberg remembers. “I am fortunate to have found this type of career.” Rosenberg works in parts of sub-Saharan Africa heavily affected by HIV, where the need for public health solutions is great.