COURSE DESCRIPTION

This on-line course is designed to provide students with an opportunity to gain knowledge about work and its effect on health. The complexities of workplace exposures and the impact of work-related health hazards and their interactions will be examined. Concepts of risk assessment, risk management, and risk communication will be studied within the context of prevention, health promotion, and health protection strategies to reduce work-related health risks. Regulatory influences, ethical issues, and epidemiologic concepts related to workplace exposures and their implications for worker health and safety will be discussed. Interdisciplinary approaches to occupational health problem identification, investigation, and resolution will be a major emphasis. This is a required course for all NIOSH-funded ERC students.

OBJECTIVES

1. Discuss workforce, workplace, and work-related epidemiologic injury and illness trends, issues, and impacts.
2. Discuss major legislative/regulatory, labor, and related issues that impact occupational health and the importance of program evaluation.
3. Discuss the interdisciplinary nature and role of the occupational health team in the recognition, management, control, and prevention of occupational health hazards and related ethical issues.
4. Discuss risk assessment, risk management, and risk communication approaches including screening, surveillance, and control/abatement measures in dealing with occupational health problems.
5. Describe health protection and health promotion strategies (primary, secondary, and tertiary levels) to effectively reduce work-related health risks and improve quality of life.

VALUING DIVERSITY

Promoting and valuing diversity in the classroom enriches learning and broadens everyone's perspectives. Inclusion and tolerance can lead to respect for others and their opinions, which is valuable in itself and is critical to maximizing the learning that occurs in this course. Therefore, this class follows principles of inclusion, tolerance, and respect for multiple and diverse points of view.

Interdisciplinary Group Work (40%)

Groups will be assigned by faculty. Each group will submit at least 2 choices for your paper (industry with a specified hazard/population) to course faculty by February 17 for approval. The relevant NORA Sector will also need to be identified.

The group will prepare a joint paper, 12-15 double-spaced typed pages, along with appropriate, current references in APA format. The paper should include the following:

1. Describe the nature and scope of the work (major products; operational processes; relevant toxicological data, types of jobs or job classifications);
2. Review and summarize previous studies (work-related health hazards; major causes of illnesses/injuries/lost work-time);
3. Describe control measures used to mitigate health hazards and risks (engineering; work practices; administrative; personal protective equipment), and standards/regulations indicating compliance directives;
4. Recommend abatement, control, and prevention strategies; and
5. Describe the role of the occupational safety and health team in problem identification and problem solving.

Each group member will also submit the group participation form stating that you actively participated in the paper.

Each group will submit PowerPoint slides of the paper.

HONOR CODE

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has had a student-administered honor system and judicial system for over 100 years. The system is the responsibility of students and is regulated and governed by them, but faculty share the responsibility. If you have questions about your responsibility under the honor code, please bring them to your instructor or consult with the office of the Dean of Students or the Instrument of Student Judicial Governance. This document, adopted by the Chancellor, the Faculty Council, and the Student Congress, contains all policies and procedures pertaining to the student honor system. Your full participation and observance of the honor code is expected.

Information about the Honor Code is listed in the Student Handbook. All written work should be submitted with the following pledge with your signature: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid on this assignment.”
