"Implementing and evaluating medication assistance programming in metastatic breast cancer (MBC)"

Our overarching goal is to develop medication assistance programming that optimizes outcomes for MBC patients (MBCPs) and can be disseminated regionally and nationally. Our specific objectives are to: (1) assess medication needs and financial toxicity among MBCPs; (2) map the processes by which patients, caregivers, and providers attempt to access financial support; and (3) develop a rigorous implementation and evaluation plan for expanding a novel medication assistance program in the context of existing care coordination and navigation services.
