RESEARCH INTERESTS

Sexually Transmitted Diseases (STD) particularly HIV/AIDS for prevention and health promoting interventions to reach behavioral change; Continuous Quality improvement (CQI) methodology for Health Systems strengthening to promote practice-based research for healthier communities; Mental Health; Implementation science; Antimicrobial resistance; Maternal and Child Health programs; Water, Sanitation and Hygiene (WaSH) and Health equity.

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Principal Investigator (PI) of the $ 10,000 Thorp Faculty Engaged Scholars (FES) Class IX (2023-2025) sponsored by the Carolina Center for Public Service. The Research study IRB Number is 24-0532 and the title is “Well-Being in the context of Mental Health among BIPOC & Latino residents of Yancey and/or Mitchell Counties of North Carolina: Understanding challenges, Raising Literacy and Elevating Stigma-free conversations”. We aim to highlight communities’ understanding and challenges to Well-Being and increase literacy through linkage to mental health resources in Yancey and/or Mitchell Counties of North Carolina by July 2025. From March 2024 – Present

Principal Investigator (PI) of the $ 30,500 PHIL Research study entitled “Preparing for the future: Exploring the leadership practice in public health to enhance Public Health Leadership Program (PHLP) pedagogy” – October 2022 to present

IRB Number is 22-2474. Our team has developed the following goals for this research project that falls under the “Innovations in Curriculum” pillar of the PHIL initiative. The specific aims that we have set are as follows:

- Aim 1: Explore how public health professionals practice leadership. We will explore if and how identified gaps have been moderated by other context variables, such as: years of experience, education, background, race/ethnicity, field of experience, etc.
- Aim 2: Assess how the current LIP training contributes to the practice of leadership
- Aim 3: Identify gaps between practice and current training and evolving needs

The Contributions of Targeted HIV Testing Services (HTS) towards the First 95 UNAIDS Goal: Lessons Learned from the BRIDGE Project in Haiti – February 2022

ISSRF (Indian Society for the Study of Reproduction and Fertility) 28th Issue Newsletter under the theme “HIV/AIDS: Beginning to Current Scenario” has been released with our HTS article available from Pages 12 to 17 of the document.

Learning needs assessment for multi-stakeholder implementation science training in LMIC settings: findings and recommendations – December 2021

External Quality Assessment Program for HIV Rapid Tests in Haiti: Challenges and Opportunities, which is a practice-based research project conducted in collaboration with the National Public Health Laboratory, Government of Haiti, June 2017 - November 2017

- collaborate with National Laboratory of Public Health to finalize the national algorithm for HIV rapid tests in Haiti;
- conduct initial assessment of HIV testing services at USAID supported health facilities nationwide, which helped identify challenges and opportunities for the improvement of HIV rapid test quality management system in Haiti through the external quality assessment (EQA).

Evaluation of the Reaccreditation of North Carolina Local Health Departments for Improvement, which is an academic practice-based research project in collaboration with the North Carolina Institute of Public Health (NCIPH), June 2016- Mai 2017

- answer three research questions: First, which activities were most frequently unmet? Second, why were they unmet? Third, what suggestions for quality improvement (SQI) did the site visits provide about these unmet activities?;

Excellent ML_CV_April 5, 2024

- create a database for the 68 out of 85 Local Health departments (LHDs) that have completed reaccreditation at least once using three main documents: Health Department Self-Assessment Instrument (HDSAI), NCLHDA Site Visit Team Suggestions for Quality Improvement (SQI) and NCLHDA Reaccreditation Site Visit Report;
- retrospective analysis of reaccreditation data from FY 2013-2016;
- identify best practice across North Carolina Local Health Departments (NCLHDs);
- improve public health services delivery with a better understanding of why activities were unmet 276 times across 62;
- publish a written evaluation report along with a paper brief on North Carolina Local Health Department Accreditation (NCLHDA) website by December 2016;
- inform planning for future tailored LHDs accreditation trainings by reporting what activities need collective focus;
- that evaluation aims to examine suggestions for improvement provided by the site visitors to provide a better understanding of why activities were unmet 276 times by 62 LHDs. Therefore, the overarching goal of this reaccreditation evaluation is to identify similarities in the strengths and gaps reported across reaccredited LHDs.

Policy and practice recommendations for addressing antibiotic/antimicrobial resistance in Haiti, which was my Master paper's theme

- review of the literature for a better understanding of the magnitude of antimicrobial resistance issue globally
