LEARNING2THRIVE PAID INTERNSHIP

Learning2Thrive Program (L2T) is a non-profit focused on developing cutting edge online tools to assist medical NGOs and Low-Income Countries meet the mental health needs of refugees and populations where Mental Health resources are limited or do not exist. L2T is now moving into the research/pilot testing phase of its development. With that in mind, we are offering a paid internship for 10-15 hours per week during the Fall 2022 semester (amount to be negotiated depending on skills and experience).*

Preferred qualifications and skills:

• A self-starter with an entrepreneurial mindset
• Strong organizational / management skills
• Cross-cultural/international experience & Cultural Competency skills
• Able to travel internationally
• Strong computer skills
• Strong communication (verbal & written) skills
• Team-building skills
• Long term interest in applied research
• A strong commitment to helping refugees and low-income populations
• Experience with WordPress (preferred, but not necessary)
• UNC Gillings graduate student

L2T will expect the intern to perform some of the following tasks:

• Help maintain and update L2T’s website content
• Suggest design ideas to enhance the site’s ability to deliver its content
• Design and test interventions through the L2T website in the field
• Write grant proposals
• Manage Pilot Tests, both locally and internationally
• Manage undergraduate interns when/if needed
• Create assessment tools that are culturally appropriate and contextually valid
• Generate research designs and evaluation tools

* This internship could serve as a practicum to meet requirements for graduate degree

How to apply:
Send cover letter and CV/resume to Will Sibert at will.sibert@gmail.com by C.O.B. on July 15, 2022