- Funded for $10,000 by UNC Office of Executive Vice-Chancellor and Provost

This project aims to quantify the effects of state opioid restriction laws on opioid use among Medicare enrollees. Using Medicare prescription claims data for 2011-2019, we will conduct drug utilization analyses to evaluate the following monthly measures for acute pain patient populations

- Evaluation of drug treatment for incident trigeminal neuralgia in Medicare-insured patients

- Role: PI (10% In-kind) 09/01/2020 – 8/31/2021 (Subaward moved to UNC)
- Funded for $25,000 total direct costs by UF Center for Advancing Minority Pain and Aging Science (Subaward of P30AG059297 by National Institute on Aging)

This study aims to describe the initial drug treatment for trigeminal neuralgia in older adults using real-world data and to understand the patient characteristics associated with individual treatment selection.

- Funded for $275,829 by Merck Sharp & Dohme Corp

The goal of the study is to (1) estimate changes in the trend in chronic cough medication (CCM) use over time in the US ambulatory care settings, and (2) to identify and characterize the distinct CCM utilization trajectories and associated factors using Medicare and OneFlorida data.

▪ Leveraging social media data for evaluation of drug use trends after opioid policies (AACP New Investigator Award)

- Role: PI (10% In-kind) 03/01/2020 – 02/28/2021
- Funded for $10,000 by American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy (AACP)

This study aims at exploring the feasibility of using consumer-generated data from social media to evaluate trends in prescription and illicit opioid use in the context of opioid-related policies.

▪ Developing a real-time trajectory tool to identify potentially unsafe concurrent opioid and benzodiazepine use among older adults (1R21AG060308-01A1)

- Funded for $1,500,000 by the State University System of Florida (Direct state appropriation)

Faculty lead for the Medical Marijuana Clinical Outcomes Research Repository (MEMORY). This state appropriation establishes the consortium for medical marijuana clinical outcomes research, charged to generate and disseminate evidence on the outcomes of the medical use of marijuana.

▪ Enhancing active learning of a root cause analysis on a medication error in the patient safety and quality in pharmacy course

- Role: Co-Investigator (5% In-kind) 06/01/2019 – 12/31/2019 (PI: Vouri)
- Funded for $15,000 by the UF College of Pharmacy PROSPER Teaching Innovation Award

This funding was used for the development of a series of immersive video vignettes to teach concepts of medication error in the PharmD curriculum. We used a multi-pronged approach for evaluating learning outcomes and attitudes towards medication errors.

▪ Evaluating changes in Order Sets for inpatient Pain Management (EOS-PM)

- Role: Co-Investigator (70%) 01/01/2016 – 06/30/2016 (PI: Winterstein)
