

Position Title: UNC Fellow - HIV Work and Teaching

Description:

Roots of Health is seeking enthusiastic and motivated interns to support our HIV Work and Teaching initiatives. This internship offers the opportunity to gain hands-on experience in developing training designs, modules, and educational materials aimed at combating stigma and harm reduction in gender care, as well as reviewing and updating educational modules used in schools and communities.

Location: 4th Floor Karldale Building, North Highway, San Pedro, Puerto Princesa City, Palawan 5300, Philippines

Expected Start Date: June 10, 2024*

Expected End Date: August 9, 2024*

Funding: $2,000 Gillings travel award

Responsibilities:

1. HIV Work - Training Design on Stigma and Harm Reduction (Gender Care):
 - Assist in the design and development of training materials focusing on stigma reduction and harm reduction strategies in gender care.
 - Conduct research to gather relevant information and resources for training content.
 - Collaborate with the Youth team to ensure the training design aligns with the organization's objectives and target audience needs.
 - Help organize and facilitate training sessions as needed.
2. Teaching - Review and Update of Educational Modules:
 - Review and assess current educational modules used in schools and communities.
 - Work closely with the Youth team to identify areas for improvement and update existing modules accordingly.
 - Research to incorporate current best practices and relevant information into the modules.
 - Assist in the development of new teaching materials and resources as needed.

Expected Outputs:

- Training manual on Stigma and Harm Reduction
- Updated educational modules

- Brief high level summary on the work undertaken, lessons learned and any observations or recommendations for ROH programming

Qualifications:

- Currently enrolled in a relevant academic program (e.g., Public Health, Education, Social Sciences, etc.).
- Strong interest in HIV prevention, gender care, stigma reduction, and education.
- Excellent research and writing skills.
- Ability to work independently and collaboratively in a dynamic team environment.
- Proficiency in Microsoft Office Suite (Word, Excel, PowerPoint).
- Prior experience in curriculum development, training design, or related fields is a plus.

To apply:

Qualified applicants should send a cover letter and resume to jobs@rootsofhealth.org as soon as possible.

Type: "UNC Fellow Opportunity" in the subject line.

Incomplete applications will not be considered.

Roots of Health is flexible on the start and end dates so students can finalize these themselves. The engagement can start anytime from late May and end any time up to early August.*