

HPM Award Name	Eligibility	DESCRIPTION AND AMOUNT (MAY BE SPLIT AMONG MULTIPLE STUDENTS)	WHO MAY NOMINATE
Arthur B. Holzworth Endowed Scholarship in Health Leadership	DrPH student	In order to support the teaching, training and leadership development of outstanding Executive DrPH in Health Leadership students at UNC, the donors created this award to honor the late Dr. Arthur B. Holzworth, a distinguished osteopathic physician, teacher, leader and devoted husband and father who inspired others—including his three sons—to pursue careers that enhance human health.	Faculty and students
Charles A. Veatch Endowed Scholarship in Health Leadership	DrPH student	In order to support the teaching, training and leadership development of outstanding Executive DrPH in Health Leadership students at UNC, the donors created this award to honor Dr. Charles A. Veatch, a distinguished leader and highly decorated surgeon general who served honorably in the US Air Force and US Navy and a devoted husband, father and friend who exemplifies what it means to be a hero.	Faculty and students
Deniese May Chaney Fellowship	DrPH student	These funds are to recognize a student of high academic caliber who is pursuing health administration as a career goal. The funds are to be utilized for educational related expenses, so the award is most appropriate for a student early in the degree program.	Faculty
Cohort 8 Endowed Fund for Innovation	DrPh student	This award is made to recognize a student in the Executive DrPH program in the Department of Health Policy & Management for innovative research.	Faculty
Sandra B. Greene Scholarship in Health Leadership	DrPH student	First offered in 2012, this award is for a DrPH student selected by the faculty who is deserving based on financial need and/or merit.	Faculty
Jacob Koomen Public Health Practice Award	Executive MHA student exemplifying commitment to public health.	Jacob Koomen, director of North Carolina's Division of Health Services from 1966-1978 (and assistant director for four years prior to that), was a member of the HPM faculty from 1978 until his retirement in 1985. He added significant strength to the department's teaching resources in the	Faculty and students area of community health administration, as well as critically needed field experience.

AUPHA/McGaw Master's Scholar	First-year master's student	The McGaw Scholarship, funded by the Association of University Programs in Health Administration, is awarded annually to an outstanding first-year master's student, nominated by the instructors of the first-year core courses.	Faculty
Benjamin Rodin Scholarship	Master's student interested in health services administration.	The Benjamin Rodin Scholarship Fund was established in 2001 by Mark Rodin, in memory of his father, Benjamin Rodin, to support graduate students with an interest in health services administration.	Faculty
Clive Boxhill Jr. Scholarship in Health Policy	First-year master's student interested in health policy	The income from this fund shall be used to provide aid to a highly qualified graduate student(s) with an interest in health policy. Preference will be given to students with an interest in international health disparities; secondary preference will be given to students with an interest in community health disparities.	Faculty
Davis-Watson Scholarship	First-year MHA students planning a career in medical group management.	The Davis-Watson Healthcare Management Scholarship is funded by the North Carolina Medical Group Managers. Criteria for the award include academic performance, leadership potential, and demonstrated promise for future contributions to healthcare management. Students may also self-nominate.	Faculty and students
HPM Teaching & Learning Award	Residential MHA, MPH, MSPH students	This award is fellowship support in the form of assistance with stipend, tuition, fees and other costs of attendance for residential master's students.	Faculty

Margaret Dardess and T.E. Smith Scholarship	First-year or entering dual degree master's student.	The scholarship is to go to a first-year or entering dual degree student (MBA/MHA or MBA/MSPH) with the most promising future in health policy and management.	Faculty
Jean G. Yates Health Policy Award	Second-year MSPH student.	This award, initiated with contributions from John Paul (PhD '83), Robert Hurley (PhD '88), and Deborah Freund (a former HPM faculty Member), is now sustained by an endowment funded by HPM doctoral alumni.	Faculty
Arnold Kaluzny Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Research	Undergraduate senior	First offered in 2012, this award was created to recognize a senior in the BSPH program who demonstrates excellence in research throughout the undergraduate career and/or through the Senior Honors Thesis	Faculty
Gerald D. Studer Undergraduate Student Award	Undergraduate senior	This award recognizes a senior in the BSPH program who demonstrates exceptional motivation, work ethic, resourcefulness, and personal sacrifice in pursuit of his/her goals. Melanie Studer's father, Jerry, was a teacher, coach, and athletic director who demonstrated the achievements possible through hard work, dedication, and personal sacrifice.	Faculty and Students
James P. Dixon Award for Excellence in Education	Undergraduate senior	This award recognizes a senior in the BSPH program with an exemplary academic and service record. Jim Dixon was on the HPM faculty from 1976 to 1995, bringing many years of experience in innovation in higher education. He believed in the value of education, especially the integration of classroom lessons with practical applications through experience-based learning.	Faculty
Peggy Leatt Award for Leadership in the BSPH Junior Year	Undergraduate Junior	This award recognizes a junior in BSPH program who demonstrates academic excellence, excellent teamwork, diligence, service, and promise and potential for influence and leadership in the field of health policy and management.	Faculty and students
Madison DeVries Award for Community Building	Undergraduate Senior	The award recognizes a senior in the BSPH program who fosters a sense of community both inside and outside the classroom and who makes students feel welcomed and valued as members of the BSPH program in HPM.	Students

Harry T. Phillips Award for Outstanding Teaching by a Doctoral Student	PhD student	Harry Phillips was a member of the HPM faculty from 1969-1983, at which time he exchanged an active role in the university for an equally active intellectual and volunteer role in the community. This award recognized his contributions, especially in the classroom.	Faculty and students
Rozier Health Services Award	PhD student	First offered in 2019, this award recognizes a PhD student who demonstrates excellence in health services research. Preference is given to students conducting mental health services research and to support travel to professional meetings.	Faculty
Jean G. Yates Outstanding Doctoral Student Award	PhD student interested in health services research	This award, initiated with contributions from John Paul (PhD '83), Robert Hurley (PhD '88), and Deborah Freund (a former HPM faculty member) is now sustained by an endowment funded by HPM doctoral alumni.	Faculty
Francine and Harry Weinberger Award for Social Justice – 3 awards, one for BSPH, Masters and PhD	BSPH Student Masters Student PhD student	The Weinberger Award was created to honor Morris Weinberger's parents by recognizing deserving residential degree students who demonstrate excellence in the Department of Health Policy and Management. Awards will be distributed to students who have documented experiences related to social justice and/or have been active in organizations that support the values of an inclusive society (e.g., equality, respecting diversity). For these awards that recognize social justice, preference may be given to students with demonstrated financial need. A total of three awards will be distributed equally to the following: one candidate for the degree of Bachelor, one candidate for the residential degree of Master, and one candidate for the PhD degree.	Faculty and Students
Dental Public Health Award	All students eligible	The Dental Public Health Award is available to any student interested in dental public health.	Faculty and Students

Birken Award for Excellence in Research by a Caregiver	Research-active MSPH or PhD student in HPM who demonstrates research excellence while balancing a caregiving role.	Research-active MSPH or PhD student in HPM who demonstrates research excellence while balancing a caregiving role.	Faculty and students
--	---	---	-----------------------------